PROGRAMME

THINKING THE EDGE – WATER & CULTURE Istanbul July 2013 is an international, multidisciplinary architectural event that will take place in Istanbul, focusing on building a natural environment and the notion of edge as a dynamic interchange among realities, materials, cultures, identities and memories.

THINKING THE EDGE – WATER & CULTURE was born as a result of the previous successes of THINKING THE EDGE Milano 2010 and WATER FRONT Hong Kong 2011. Istanbul provides the perfect setting for an architectural event that explores the dynamic relations between water and culture, exemplified by an ever changing, multicultural society and its beloved Bosphorus.

THINKING THE EDGE – WATER & CULTURE events will include: WORKSHOPS attended by students from twelve universities all over the world, SEMINARS and ROUND TABLES chaired by prominent representatives of the architectural and interdisciplinary fields, as well as EXHIBITIONS and a COMPETITION opened to students and professionals. The event will provide a forum and opportunity to meet a variety of well-renowned architects from Turkey and from abroad.
